Of The Old Story

The Next Story

Reminiscence and Life Review

Reminiscence is the act or process of recalling the remote past in a silent, spoken, solitary, interactional, spontaneous, or structured way.

Life review is a more formal and more intense intervention. Life review is the process of reviewing, organizing and evaluating the overall picture of one's life with the purpose of achieving integrity by seeing one's life as a unique story.

Both reminiscence and life review use memory and recall in their processes.

Change And Transition

It isn't the changes that do you in, it's the transitions. Change is not the same as transition. Change is situational: the new technology, the new procedure, the new worker, the new challenge. Transition is the psychological process people go through to come to terms with the new situation. Change is external, transition is internal.

adapted from William Bridges

Clarifying Change and Transition

Change is a situational shift:

- Getting a new hip is a change, and so is receiving an unexpected, positive gift or losing your job;
- Moving to a different home is a change, and so is remodeling your house or losing it in a fire;
- Having or welcoming a new grandchild is a change for everyone in the family
- And, of course, losing a loved one is a change – a huge one.

Transition is the process of letting go of the way things used to be and taking hold of the way they subsequently become... Transition is the way we all come to terms with change.

Wm. Bridges

Transition Starts With an Ending

The starting point for transition is not the outcome but the ending that you will have to make to leave the old situation behind. Situational change hinges on the new thing, but psychological transition depends on letting go of the old reality and old identity you had before the change took place.

Wm. Bridges – Managing Transitions

Examples of Loss: Transition Needed

- A sudden and unexpected event that destroys the old life that made one feel like oneself
- The “drying up” of a situation or relationship that once felt vital and alive
- An activity that has always gone well before, suddenly and unexpectedly goes badly
- A person or organization you trusted proves to be untrustworthy
- An inexplicable or unforeseen problem crops up at the worst possible moment, to disrupt ordinary functioning

---

Loss

Dehumanization of Loss

Repeated experiences of unacknowledged and unmourned loss contribute to the dehumanization of loss...It's one thing to lose something that was important to you, but it is far worse when no one in your universe recognizes that you lost it. The failure to acknowledge another's loss is to deny that person's humanity.

Differences:

Chronic Sorrow and Complicated Grief

- Both contain sorrow that can be ongoing
- Both contain elements of depressive emotions and experience
- The Key Difference Is The Ability To Grow Life, Experience Joy And Fullness Regularly, Even While Also Grieving

Metaphors of Loss / Grieving

...disaster sucks all the air from the room,

Kopp Framework - Follow Metaphors

- 1) Notice metaphors
- 2) Invite the client to explore
- 3) “If I were seeing it the way you see it, what would I see?”
- 4) Practice curiosity
- 5) Describe feelings associated with the metaphor
- 6) Invite transformation
- 7) “What if the metaphor were a....?”
- 8) Connect metaphor and life issues

Assumptive World

All of us from the moment of our birth, have been building inside ourselves a model of the world, a set of assumptions on the basis of which we recognize the world that we meet and plan our behaviour accordingly. Because this model is based on reality it is, most of the time, a valid and useful basis for thought and behaviour. We rely on the accuracy of these assumptions to maintain our orientation in the world and to control our lives. Anything which challenges this model incapacitates us.

Inquiries about Shattered Dreams

- When you pictured this time in your life, what did you picture?
- When you thought about being _____, what did you picture?
- If and when you thought of losses in your family, how did you think it would be, how would it happen?
- Tell me about the plans you and (the name of the person had?

Ambiguous Loss

Losses that are:
unclear,
confusing, and for which

future stories / outcomes are unknown

Etymology: “driven in both ways”

Boss

Ambiguous Loss: Conundrum

Psychological Presence

And

Physical Absence

Physical Presence

And

Psychological Absence

Ambiguous loss is inherently traumatic because the inability to resolve the situation causes pain, confusion, shock, distress, and often immobilization. Without clarity/closure the trauma of this unique kind of loss becomes chronic.

Responses to Ambiguity

- Label what people are experiencing (responses will vary)
- Provide a structure and setting for contact
- Provide information
- Increase tolerance for ambiguity
- Be flexible, adapt routines, minimize helplessness, normalize situation
- Emphasize what can be changed or addressed and what can not...
- Move from “either/or” choices to “both/and choices”

What Helps?

It Is Those Who, Instead Of Giving Advice, Solutions Or Cures, Acknowledge The Pain And Touch Our Wounds With A Gentle And Tender Hand

Someone Who Can Be Silent In A Moment Of Despair Or Confusion Who Can Tolerate, Not Knowing, Not Curing, Not Healing And Face With Us Our Loss

Dual-processing model

(Stroebe and Schut 2001)

Loss Orientation

Grief work
Intrusion of grief
Denial and avoidance of restoration changes

Restoration Orientation

Attending to life changes
Doing new things
Distraction, denial, avoidance of grief
New roles, identities, relationships

Hope

Definitions usually include:

EXPECTATION

DESIRE

Which can involve GOALS, ATTRIBUTES, REDEFINITION, MEANING, PEACE, ENERGY

Reasonable Hope: Characteristics

- Reasonable hope is relational
- Reasonable hope is a practice
- Reasonable hope maintains that the future is open, uncertain, and influenceable
- Reasonable hope seeks goals and pathways to them
- Reasonable hope accommodates doubt, contradictions, and despair Weingarten

Hope includes a future story.

Hope includes a shared story.

Hope includes stories of meaning.

Hope includes an affirmative story.

Hope includes the real story.

I have only one small grain of hope –
I need more
I break off a fragment to send you
Please take this grain of hope
So mine won't shrink
Please share your fragment
So that yours will grow
Only so, by division,
Will hope increase
