2	none, as of now.	10/17/2019 11:07 AM
3	I wonder perhaps if this idea might be explored: Many of us retirees want to continue contributing to our community (because of our work skills) - and there are volunteer opportunities to be had - yet the connection between potential volunteers and the organizations or programs needing volunteers could be expanded. The idea: a type of "head hunter" connection in which potential volunteers submit their resume for nonprofit and governmental programs to view. I appreciate the privacy issues involved with this concept; and perhaps this idea undertaking may be more suited for VAN, AARP MN or another group or association but this idea has been brewing in my head for awhile!	10/16/2019 11:11 AM

15	Some wide open method or venue for all the membership to raise, brain storm, and discuss issues in aging. The conference is truly top notch, but it is "star" dominated. Given the relatively small size of the total MGS membership, there could possibly be a broader group discussion that taps the vast experience of the mostly professionals and others who are MGS members.	10/9/2019 12:26 PM
